

Wine tour to Shamakhi + Alpaca farm

● Description

Meysari village in Shamakhi has favorable soil and ideal air for growing grapes. Here, the "Shirvan" winery is located, the area of which is 4398 sq. m. The total area of vineyards and winemaking is 310 hectares. The plant is unique in that they produce organic wine, that is, they do not use synthesized pesticides and fertilizers during the ripening of grapes.

After the wine tour, tourists will have an excursion to an alpaca farm. Alpacas are South American animals that look very much like a llama. About 6,000 years ago, the Indians of Peru domesticated and bred alpacas. On the initiative of Leyla Aliyeva, alpacas were also bred in Shemakha. New pets from South America adore the climate of Shamakhi very much. Now, it is a favorite weekend destination for Azerbaijani families.
